Hello everyone tēnā koutou,

I am Egbert the LEARNZ ambassador. I go on all the trips with Andrew and help look after the other ambassadors from your schools.

I really love LEARNZ field trips about New Zealand's special places. I am looking forward to learning about how to keep me and my ambassador mates safe in an emergency.

Best,

Egbert

Monday 10 October

Kia ora everyone,

Today we flew from Kerikeri to Auckland Airport. Then we made our way into the central city. The flight was fun, once the turbulence stopped that is! The drive wasn't much fun though. I lost count of all the traffic lights for which we had to stop!

Anyway, I am glad to be here and I'm looking forward to tomorrow when the field trip really gets under way!

Catch you tomorrow,

Egbert

Tuesday 11 October

Kia ora everyone,

We had a great day today hanging out with Stan the dog and Hamish Keith from Civil Defence. We went for a drive out west to an emergency coordination centre. I could just imagine what it would be like during an emergency with the centre filled with busy people working hard to help the public survive. It is great that we have so many people and organisations that are here to help in an emergency, but of course we can all do our part by being prepared with the basics at home.

Catch you tomorrow,

Egbert

Wednesday 12 October

Kia ora everyone,

We visited quite a few different places around Auckland today, with some great views of Auckland city and the harbour. My favourite place visited today was North Head because it gave us such an awesome view of Rangitoto.

Tomorrow we are going to find out about man-made and biological hazards, so I am interested in learning about what those are.

Catch you tomorrow,

Egbert

Thursday 13 October

Kia ora tātou,

Today was the last day of the field trip. Did you enjoy the trip? I sure can see the reason for learning about the different hazards. Hopefully by now you have a better idea of what action to take should you find yourself caught up in the middle of an emergency.

I have had a super week. I have met friendly Auckland Council staff, and that cool dog, Stan and learned a lot along the way. Great stuff eh!

Catch you on another field trip soon!

Egbert
